

Canadian Music Showcase

Invites

performers of cello, flute, harp, organ, piano, recorder, viola, violin, and voice to a non-competitive festival celebrating Canadian music from its earliest times to the present day.

What IS CMS?

CMS was established in 1999 in conjunction with the Canadian Musical Heritage Society.
Nationally recognized adjudicators provide commentary to participants in a small group non-competitive master-class setting.

CMS is about exploring and discovering music by Canadian composers. Students at every level from beginner to advanced are welcome to perform, the only requirement is that it be Canadian.

Dates

Voice
November 18, 2016
Rideau Park United Church

Piano, Strings, Composition
November 19, 2016
Ottawa Pianos

All ages, including adult students, are welcome to participate in graded classes.
Students should register in the grade at which they are presently working but given the early time of year may choose a piece from one level lower. Memory is strongly encouraged. Time limit allows for more than one short piece to be played by each participant.

Volunteers Welcome

The heart of CMS is its dedicated cadre of volunteers, mostly (but not necessarily) local teachers. They provide invaluable help on an as-needed basis with planning, publicity, and the variety of administrative and logistical details before and during the event.

For information on volunteering, please contact Debra Bonneville-Laundrie at
